Restore Africa's Image by standing together for the good of Africa ... Private Sector, Academia, Labor and Stakeholders MUST speak with one VOICE at the National level led by Chambers or National Business Federations.

The regional level is led by regional bodies, the Chamber Continental body is led by PACCI, and at the AU led by the Africa Business Council (AfBC).

APSS is standing with national, regional, and pan-african business associations, academia, labor, COSs, and stakeholders for a united, strong, independent, vibrant, and functional private sector.

What Does the Private Sector Want in a PSBoR in Support of Implementation of RECS and AFCFTA Protocols ?

These Enabling elements are already within the RECs and AfCFTA protocols, the Private Sector is now claiming these as Rights and Enablers to insure and ensure their timely implementation to achieve the Fourth Industrial Revolution in Africa (FIRIA) in fulfillment of AU Agenda 2063.

The Private Sector simply seeks a predictable investment climate that is conducive for Business to exist, thrive and be successful.

These include elements of enablers such as:

- 1 The right to peace, security and stability to ensure trade and investment opportunities.
- 2 The right to a functional education system to meet the skills set demands by business/ industry.
- 3 The right to proper, safe, and adequate infrastructures to propel trade & investment.
- 4 The right to free movement of people in Africa.
- 5 The right to a strong and acceptable currency for trade in Africa and beyond.
- 6 The right to seamless border crossing in Africa.
- 7 The right to access to credit supported by the Africa Trade Insurance (ATI)
- 8 The right to favorable credit terms to support short, medium and long terms investment projects.

- 9 The right to a functional legal system that works for timely redress for all.
- 10 The right to participatory ownership and or co-ownership of the development and transformation of natural resources leading to the Fourth Industrial Revolution in Africa (FIRIA).
- 11 The right to harmonized continental quality assurance standards matching global level for ease of continental and global trade.
- 12 The right to timely, functional, reliable, & efficient processing of documentation and clearing of imports and of expedited curriers and cargos.
- 13 The right to consultation on policy, regulation and laws prior to placement.
- 14 The right to a healthy consultative relationship between the public sector and private sector to propel trade and investment.
- 15 The right to participate in conflict mediation in & between countries considering that most conflicts are associated with job-related issues.
- 16 The right to freedom of establishment for African private businesses
- 17 The right to exceptions and subsidies for small and medium-scale enterprises
- 18 The right to one stop processes for banking and financial transfers.
- 19 The right to benefit from sharing and to benefit from scientific progress.
- 20 The right to an incentive to the private sector for development partnership - corporate tax discount for development projects singularly and or jointly undertaken by the private sector and or with the government.
- 21 The right to adapt labor and IP laws to require local content, capacity building of local workers, and technology transfer to African businesses.
- 22 The right of the Creative Industry as an inclusive partner for innovation and retaining traditional knowledge.
- 23 The right to open access to data and establish local databanks for African businesses.
- 24 The right to conduct business activities in RECs and AfCFTA Member States that prohibit bribery and corruption practices.

1. What is PSBoR?

Business owners/Investors look at investment opportunities in any country, region, or continent in general with on “an eagle eye” as the enabling business environment for predictability and legal framework for prompt enforcement of business agreements and contracts. In the absence of such on Enabling Business Environment, serious minded, creditable investors would not be willing in investing because of the inherent risks of doing business within such African countries.

2. Why a PSBoR?

WHY SHOULD PRIVATE BUSINESSES SUPPORT THE REGIONAL ECONOMIC COMMUNITIES (RECs) AND AfCFTA PROTOCOLS?

The RECs and AfCFTA protocols are composed of numerous trade and investment facilitation enablers that were signed by African Heads of State, that when implemented, would propel trade and investment in Africa. The Private Sector Bill of Rights (PSBoR) for an Enabling Business Environment in Africa seeks to harness the importance of the implementation of the signed treaties and protocols as a complimentary companion instrument to both RECs and AfCFTA protocols to ensure a predictable conducive investment climate in Africa under the vast business opportunities that exist for businesses to be successful.

What Happens if the PSBOR is Passed/Enacted by Parliamentary Institutions of the RECs African Union or The Pan African Parliament and or Heads of State?

If such PSBoR is passed/enacted by parliamentary decree and or Heads of State at AU, then it becomes a vital instrument that would accelerate national, and regional development goals in fulfilment of the AU Agenda 2063!

Note 1

We are trying to take the same route as was done with the passage/enactment of the AfCFTA. Get 22 countries to sign up and then ratification.

Some countries might have their parliament act on it, in pursuit of the country's national program.

Note 2

We are making the argument that the PSBoR is a complimentary companion instrument to the AfCFTA agreement, and we are promoting it as such.

Note 3

The basic source of the tenets of the PSBoR comes from the RECs and AfCFTA protocols.
